Giving Thanks

The holiday season is upon us. The stores are decorated for Christmas before Halloween is over. It seems to happen earlier each year. The merchants are constantly trying to expand the number of shopping days and increase their profits. Considering the economy one cannot fault the merchants.

Perhaps we should use this expansion of the holiday season to more properly prepare and contemplate what the holidays are truly meant to represent.

Thanksgiving is a day set apart to show our gratitude for our blessings. But for many people, it represents a day of gluttony and football games. While I love a good game, I don't think that we should leave it at that.

When our children were small as parents we had a difficult time trying to get them to understand what Thanksgiving really meant. Although we said grace at every evening meal we wanted Thanksgiving to be more reflective of all we had to be thankful for. We finally settled on a plan that worked for our family. We spent the early part of the day preparing our evening meal and enjoying the Macy's Parade on television. We put the turkey in the oven and set the oven on automatic. We then took ourselves, and the children to the Everett Gospel Mission and spent the afternoon serving dinner to those folks who came to the mission in need of a dinner.

Our family, especially the children was humbled by the number of people who came to the mission. Our children experienced serving whole families with children their own ages that needed food. Later that evening, around our dinner table our family gave thanks. Our children's gratitude was heartfelt.

Today children are saturated with electronics, plastic toys and expensive designer clothing. They are jaded well beyond their years. Can we as adults show them the real reasons to be grateful? My grandchildren, nieces and nephews often have unrealistic expectations.

Even our adult children do not recognize that during prior times of war, our population had to make deep sacrifices to keep our troops supplied with food and clothing. Women wore cotton stockings because nylon was used for parachutes. Meat, butter, sugar and other staples were rationed. Today our country is again at war. However, this war does not necessarily impact our daily lives. We are not doing without. Our grocery stores hold a wonder of goods available 24 hours a day. Gasoline is pumped through our SUV at an amazing consumption rate.

There are many things to be grateful for in our world today. I am grateful to the military who serve and protect our country. I am grateful for my country where I experience freedom denied to others in different lands. I am grateful for the education I have received. I am grateful to have been given the opportunity to serve my community. I am grateful for the availability of health care that contributes to my family's well being. And most of all I am grateful for my family and friends. What are you grateful for this year?

I wish to thank all of you who have written to me with comments regarding columns. It is very gratifying to know that you are enjoying my musings.

Pictures & Biographies for the Candidates for the 2004 Trustee Positions:

Jennifer Bridges

Jennifer Bridges of Jay Carey Law Offices primarily practices juvenile public defense at Denney Juvenile Justice Center. She is also a Volunteer Guardian ad Litem with the Snohomish County CASA/VGAL Program.

Ms. Bridges grew up in Arlington, WA and after graduating from Willamette University College of Law she returned to Snohomish County to practice law. She is committed to the Snohomish County community and believes that serving as Trustee is an excellent way for her to bring children's issues to the Bar and work towards assuring that our Law Library remains a quality research tool.

Peter Camp

I am Peter Camp. I would appreciate your support in the election for trustees of the Snohomish County Bar Association. I have been in general practice 23 years. I have been a sole practitioner. I founded my own small firm. I have worked in large law firms. Now I practice in the City of Everett City Attorney's Office. I understand how the Bar Association can help you in your practice. I have been on many bar committees, including the SCBA Auction Committee, the WSBA Court Rules and Procedures Committee, the WSBA Amicus Committee, and the State Jury Reform Commission. I want to put that experience to work for you. My pro bono work includes representing indigent appellants as a member of the 9th Circuit's Pro Bono Panel. I recently started volunteering with Snohomish County

Legal Services.

SCBA represents you as a busy professional. As your trustee, I will reach out and listen to your concerns and needs. I would like SCBA to expand reasonably priced and convenient continuing legal education courses here in Snohomish County. SCBA is also your advocate to the county government on issues such as court funding. I would like SCBA to work with the County Executive, County Council and courts on funding issues for the Superior and District Courts and county law library, and with cities on issues involving municipal courts. The lawyers of Snohomish County are exceptional, and I would be pleased to serve you.

Tobin Darrow

My name is Tobin Darrow. I have been a Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for Snohomish County for 12 years. During that period of time I have prosecuted a wide range of offenses. I was in the Sexual Assault Unit for two and a half years and am currently prosecuting Domestic Violence cases (and a murder). Since 1994 I have taught the Prosecutor's section of the Sheriff's Citizen Academy, which provides the public with an opportunity to learn how Sheriff Deputies do their job. I have also been a legal instructor for the Sheriff's reserve training program. I have been an educational speaker for the Everett High School Honors class and have acted as Judge Pro Tem for Everett Municipal Court.

Prior to my employment as a Deputy Prosecutor I was a criminal defense attorney for the Port Orchard firm of Crawford, McGilliard, Peterson, Yelish and Dixon. I represented criminally accused persons at both the misdemeanor and felony level. I am married to Sandra Walters (who works for our Family Support Division) and we have one daughter. I enjoy traveling and reading.

I desire to be a Snohomish County Bar Trustee in order to be more involved in our legal community and make a positive contribution to it.

Ron Doersch

Admitted to bar 1980. Traveler’s Insurance Co. 1979-1982. Kitsap County Prosecutor’s Office 1982-1983. Snohomish County Prosecutor’s Office 1983-present.

Has supervised violent, drug, nonviolent, special assault, district court units. Has handled numerous criminal cases including death penalty prosecutions. Currently supervises a drug/nonviolent trial team.

Willing to serve.

Geoff Gibbs

My initial goal when I was first elected to the Board was to promote professionalism in Snohomish County and maintain the collegial nature that we enjoy here. Now, as Treasurer, I continue on that course. I have supported efforts to expand our local CLE programs to the point that members can fulfill all of their mandatory requirements here in Snohomish County. I have also supported efforts to expand our membership base and to reach out to various segments of the profession.

To further both the professionalism in our association and in the practice of law, I have spearheaded efforts to poll all attorneys in Snohomish County regarding our association, its programs and presence as well as the goals and expectations of those responding. I have also brought forward programs that will maintain the financial stability expected of our association.

Your association is, I believe, being well managed and continues to promote professionalism in the practice of law in Snohomish County. I would ask for your vote and support to continue as a member of the Board of Trustees

Rico Tessedore

My name is Rico Tessandore. I’ve spent the last six months attempting to update my first home, an 88 year old American Foursquare in Historic North Everett. After realizing that plumbing, electrical and heavy construction work should be left to licensed professionals, I am now switching gears and would appreciate your vote for Trustee.

Originally from Fall City, Washington, I completed my undergraduate degree at Seattle University, majoring in journalism. After taking a break to tour Europe and the Middle East, I received my law degree from Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts.

I started my legal career working as a law clerk for Judge Linda C. Krese of the Snohomish County Superior Court. I am currently working at the Snohomish County Prosecuting Attorney’s Office in the property/drug unit of the felony division. While working as an attorney for the last five years in Snohomish County, I’ve developed a good grasp for what our members need from our organization.

As a Trustee, I’ll bring energy and enthusiasm to the Snohomish County Bar Association.

I appreciate your consideration. But seriously, folks, does anyone know how to fix a garbage disposal?
